County Commission Votes To Hire Consultant For $10,000

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, August 10, at the courthouse in Elba, and by a vote of 5-1 agreed to employ a Mississippi firm to provide statistics and future population projections to aid in the planning of a new county jail to be built in Enterprise.

The firm of Masie, Dean, Dale and Dean, of Jackson, Mississippi, will survey the county's projected growth in population, review jail and inmate history and consider the size and type jail needed to house prisoners in the entire county, and consider Enterprise and Elba as separate divisions. The firm will conduct hearings with Sheriff Brice Paul to determine the recent needs of the jail, including how many and what type of inmates are most commonly housed.

John Osborn Named Supt. Of Education

Elba city schools will soon have a new superintendent of education, according to Doug Martin, chairman of the Elba Board of Education.

John Osborn, of Smiths, Ala., will replace Elmer Taylor, who will retire as Elba school superintendent effective August 31. Osborn, a native of Columbus, Ga., is currently serving as administrative assistant on the Lee County Board of Education. He has held that position since 1975. Osborn has served in various administrative positions on the elementary, as well as junior high and high school levels. He is currently working on a doctorate degree.

Osborn, 35, and his wife, along with their 12-year-old son and 7-year-old daughter, will be moving to Elba soon.

Retiring school superintendent Elmer Taylor was honored Monday night by the school board following a steak dinner. Board Chairman Doug Martin presented Taylor with a plaque honoring him for his years of service to the Elba School System. Taylor retires August 31 after 34 years in the education field.

National Security Reports Earnings At Almost $1 Million

National Security Insurance Company recently reported statutory net operating earnings for the first half ended June 30, 1981, of $985,983 or $96 per share. These results compare with net operating earnings of $809,451 or $78 per share for the first half of 1980.

Premium income for the first six months of 1981 was $10,367,167, up 9 per cent from $9,468,047 for the same period last year. Investment income was $1,103,775 for the first half of 1981, up from $951,221 and the first half of 1980. Book value increased 21 per cent to $14.32 per share versus $11.83 per share in 1980.

Commenting on the results, J.R. Brunson, President, said, "The Life Company is experiencing a good year in profits because of lower field costs resulting from consolidation of debits and reduction in the number of agents. The Fire Company is still experiencing high claims percentages. The investment income increased 16 per cent and is helping to overcome the higher claims."

With its home office in Elba, National Security Insurance Company sells a complete line of life, fire and casualty insurance policies. Its shares are traded in the over-the-counter market under the NASDAQ symbol of NSIC.

Mallory Charged In Robbery

A 19-year-old Elba resident, Charles Edward Mallory, was arrested last Friday by Cpl. Steve Weekly of the Alabama Bureau of Investigation and charged with one count of theft of property in the first degree in connection with the July robbery of the Kilcrease Store in Pine Level. The youth has made bond and been released.

Investigation is continuing by the sheriff's department and the A.B.I. and according to Sheriff Brice Paul, more arrests are anticipated shortly.

Mr. Renis Jones, president of Pearson, Humphries, Jones and Associates, a Montgomery architectural firm, recommended the commission employ the Mississippi firm so the jail plans will be exact and meet all federal criteria.

"This firm can tell you just what the county will need for years to come," stated Jones, "and just how many cells you will need for women, juveniles, maximum and minimum security inmates, and what they will cost. There is no need to build several maximum security units when most inmates may be minimum risk prisoners that can be housed in a ward. The study will be a money saver to the county."

The cost of the study will be $12,000, of which the county will pay $10,000 and the architect $2000. The commission voted 5-1 to have the study done, with Commissioner Gilmer Grant casting the lone dissenting vote.

Jones was at Monday's meeting at the request of the commission to discuss an upcoming meeting with Judge Arthur Gamble, at which time plans are to be completed for presentation.

"At the last meeting I attended I was told to examine the site in New Brockton," said Jones. "The Farm Center is a good building, but it would need major renovation work before it could possibly be used for a jail. I had not completed plans because the county was waiting for a court order concerning the site and size of the jail, as well as the finances. The 40-prisoner figure I had spoken of was simply pulled out of the air to use in a cost estimate. I can't justify a size or draw up plans until I

Jail Discussion. . . . County Attorney Warren Rowe told Jones it must have plans by Sept. 23 to present (left) and Architect Renis Jones discuss plans for the new county jail to be built in Enterprise. The commission have more information. Tell me what you want and I will design it. I will put it anywhere you want it, and I will have it ready by your September hearing."

Commissioner Charlie Mack Martin asked Jones if a decision on a site was made August 24 could he have plans ready by September 23, and Jones replied, "Yes, but it would be better if I had a decision when I left today!"

The commission and County Attorney Warren Rowe discussed the possible sites for the jail, and Rowe stated, "The judge has ruled a jail must be built within the present city limits of Enterprise, not in New Brockton. Remember, however, that when you build one new jail, you're leaving yourself open to lawsuits from prisoners housed in the old jail."

The commission failed to choose a jail site, but told Jones they would give him a definite site at the August 24 meeting.

In other business, Rowe informed the commission of a claim filed by an Elba attorney on behalf of Martha Fleming in the amount of $5,000 to cover damages caused by rainwater drainage onto her property. Rowe told the commission to sit on the claim and do nothing until he looked into the matter.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission: ***set a $250 fee for renting the Farm Center, plus a $100 deposit for cleaning, and adopted a policy requiring the renter to take out a $100,000 insurance policy to cover liability and damages.

***approved two A-95 Reviews in the amount of $68,000 for Community Services Administration and $983,800 for Alabama Migrant and Seasonal Farm Workers Council.

***and paid bills that included $1,256.14 overtime to sheriff's deputies for 230 hours of overtime put in during an eight-day period.

Murder Trial

Continues In Elba

The murder trial of Donald Ray Ard, age 26, continues this week in the local circuit court. Ard is charged with being the person hired to pull the trigger in the death of a Ft. Rucker serviceman, Jimmy E. Tucker, on or about January 24, 1981.

Assistant District Attorney Kenneth Hooks told the jury in opening statements that the defendant entered into a conspiracy with Tucker's wife and her "live-in boyfriend", who happened to be Ard's brother. The deal was that Donald R. Ard would kill Tucker and receive part of the insurance money, according to Hooks.

Ard is being defended by his court-appointed attorneys, Robert Cannon and Mark Vaughan.

A one car accident Friday afternoon sent driver Billy Newton Street (High school parking lot) Veasley was rushed to the hospital with possible injuries. He was injured when his car hit the parked trailer in the background as he was turning from Dixon Street onto

Brainstorms

BY: FERRIN COX

We have heard a lot of discontent following last week's Grand Jury decision to discontinue further investigation of possible missing City of Elba funds. The news release by the district attorney flatly stated he had confirmed $10,000 was missing, and he was unsure at this time about the other. Some news reports read that the ten thousand had been accounted for (like found), but that ain't so. We share the frustrations of the people of Elba as far as that amount of money missing, but stop short of blaming various individuals for allowing the money to get away - nor are we blaming any individual for failing to prosecute for any missing money. We do, however, place some blame and it is on the system that has been allowed to evolve over the years. It is a system without adequate checks and balances to assure the general public and those in charge that all public monies are properly handled. It didn't happen in one day or in one year, but over a long time of too much "good neighbor" handling of money and not enough assuming that someone or group would eventually rip the city off for a big hunk of money. Our personal investigation of this matter revealed a great problem in the system of following a single monthly bill from billing time and through the entire system. Now the problem has been uncovered, a solution offered by experts and put into use - and we urge... no, we demand that all involved now and in the future assume the checks and balances that are necessary and keep them active. No legal business can afford to "lose" one-and-a-half percent of its total revenue without an inflated markup on its products, and the consumers of Elba can't afford inflated prices on our utilities. We sympathize with the employees at city hall who are trying to do an honest day's work and draw an honest day's pay, but it is a cross they must carry. If we were one of these honest employees, we would want all kinds of checks and balances to prove our honesty to all who might walk through the doors.

We have a new superintendent of education in Elba and he has impressive credentials. He is a young man with a young family. (He may not like being called "young" at 35, but that claim was made by some ladies we know in Elba who are still in shock over passing that magic age of 30.

The governor's race is heating up with the public announcement of the worst-kept secret of the year that Bill Baxley said he "probably" would be a candidate for governor next year. All the politicians have been telling us he installed a WATTS line in his home immediately after the last election and calls all over the state at night talking politics. Now that is a lot of politicking.

Sonya Denise Danford Weds Robert Franklin Newton Jr.

Sonya Denise Danford and Robert Franklin Newton Jr. were united in marriage Friday, July 24, at seven o'clock in the evening at Bethany Baptist Church. The Rev. Henry Jack Smith, uncle of the bride, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie J. Danford of Enterprise. The groom is the son of Mrs. Sara Moore of Montgomery, and Robert Franklin Newton Jr. of Elba.

The church was decorated with three candelabra covered with ivy. The center candelabra held an arrangement of white silk flowers with a basket of live greenery on each side. Bay leaves with hurricane lamps lined the edge of the platform.

Mrs. Max Holley, aunt of the bride, presented a program of music on the piano and accompanied Mrs. Andy Windham as she sang "Always and Forever," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a gown of white organza and lace; the princess-style bodice was covered with lace with fell into points at the empire waist. The full sleeves were of organza with lace covered cuffs. The train, which was attached to the bodice by a big bow, was edged in lace. The fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece with a white organza bow and trimmed with pearls. The veil was edged with lace matching the train.

The bride carried a bouquet of blue roses and white orchids.

Kim Danford attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were of Lynn Howell and Karen Warren of Enterprise.

The attendants' dresses were made of blue polyester and cotton voile with small white polka dots. The sun-ray style shoulder ruffle and bottom ruffle trimmed in lace that matched the bride's dress. They carried fans covered with blue silk flowers with a glass holding a lighted candle behind the fan.

Dawn Nelson of Elba served as junior bridesmaid. Her dress was of the same material as the bridesmaids. It was styled with a three-tiered skirt, each tier edged with lace. A white satin ribbon was tied at the waist.

The groom wore a suit of dark blue with white dots with a canisole of the same material.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will make their home in Birmingham.

***Emory Moore, a native from the Shiloh Community, had a rather large crowd home for a down-home cookout and a family reunion. I'm sure the food was very delicious. I didn't get a chance to attend, but my brother did. Might better go next year.

The Henderson family got together week before last and filled Rocky Head Baptist Church to near capacity. Their roots came from all around - from Connecticut to Florida - and a lot from the Wiregrass area. After the reunion the younger fellows got together for a game of softball. I don't know the results, but I'm anxious to find out.

Mrs. Ethel (Mamma Ethel) Lee's son was home for a short vacation. Fred is making his home in New York, along with three other brothers - Jimmy Wayne, Charles Jr., Willie C.

I know Rev. Virgil Coleman is very elated to have his brothers home from Chicago - Buford and James. I know they'll relieve him of some of that hard yard work he's been doing lately.

Mrs. and Mr. Willie Pruitt had a lovely guest in their home this summer - their daughter, Pearl. She's making her home in New York, and her granddaughter from Alabama State was home the last week of July. She is in the process of finishing up at State - happy she must be!

Randy Ware, formerly of Elba, who's stationed in Europe, was in O'p visiting his mother-in-law last week, along with his wife and two kids. Randy is a sergeant in the Army.

Martin Gray, Porky Daniels, Dave Carpenter and several more are in Oklahoma attending basic training for B Battery unit in Elba. I hope they don't get too hot like we did at summer camp.

Lois Russell, daughter of Mrs. Rose Russell of Elba, is continuing to grace TV audiences alike with her sharp broadcasting news on Newsweek 18 out of Dothan. She's doing such a tremendous job that it seems as if she's been doing it a long time. Good luck, Lois.

I went over to Mr. Rayfield Reynolds' cabinet shop just for a brief visit, and boy were they busy making tables and buffet blocks. I saw a pretty oak table that looked like a work of art; all his employees are doing exceptionally well, especially Jeanette and Camilla Siler. But Mr. Rayfield and Patrick spearhead the whole operation. His furniture is making its way to places as far away as Washington, Tennessee and Florida. One of his more prominent customers is Mrs. Gladys Milton, a well-known midwife from an area around Florida. Mrs. Milton had extensive fire loss and had to have furniture replaced. She heard about Reynolds Cabinet Shop and had some made. Word got out and his furniture has been selling rapidly in that area.

Singing was a favorite this past weekend that saw a lot of local church choirs participating in the annual choir anniversary of the Nazareth Baptist Church. The following choirs took part in the program: Oak Grove Jr. and Sr.; Mt. Calvary; Pine Grove; Holy Angels Baptist and the Community Male Chorus of O'p that has several members from Elba singing with them. They are J.C. Rogers, Jones Rogers, Charlie Smith, Arthur Gifford and William Thigpen. The Rocky Head Baptist Church had their choir anniversary Sunday the 9th of August. The Holy Angels from Elba participated, along with Beulah Baptist of Enterprise, where Rev. Virgil Coleman is pastor.

Roosevelt Cox of New Jersey, a young boy about the age of eight, amazed the audience of Nazareth Baptist Saturday night with his professional-like voice, and I must say he had me on the edge of my seat. It's amazing that a person of his age has the ability to sing so well. I hope he continues to sing well.

Have a nice day! To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heavens. A time to be born, and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to pull up, and a time to break down and a time to build up. A time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance. A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together, a time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing. A time to go, and a time to come, a time to keep and a time to cast away. A time to rend and a time to sew, a time to keep silent and a time to speak. A time to love and a time to hate. A time of war and a time of peace. Ecclesiastes 3:1-9

CARD OF THANKS

My wife, Helen, and I extend our deepest appreciation to Dr. Donald Crook and the medical staff at Elba General Hospital for their capable and expert ministrations during my recent confinement. We are especially grateful for the many calls, cards, flowers, visits (even though I was unable to see most who came), food, and numerous other thoughtful and courteous gestures extended in our behalf by our many friends and family members. We shall forever be grateful, too, for the capable and reliable services of our family and employees who so faithfully managed my business while I was confined in the hospital and at home.

That God may continue to shower His richest blessings on us all shall be our constant prayer.

A Resolution

RESOLVED, that in behalf of the members of the Elba Chapter #323, Order of the Eastern Star, these resolutions be adopted as a tribute to the memory of our beloved sister, O'BELIA PARKER, in whose death on August 2, 1981, we have lost one of our most beloved members.

HER graciousness, sympathy and unfailing kindness endeared her to her associates; while her strength of character, sincerity and high ideals won their genuine respect.

Ours deep sympathy for the members of her family mingles with our own sorrow at the loss of one whose death robs both her home and the chapter of a gracious and inspiring presence.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that a copy of these resolutions be included in the minutes of the chapter, and that a copy be published in the local newspaper, and that a copy be sent to the family as an expression of our sympathy in the great loss sustained in her death.

THIS the 4th day of August, 1981.

Live Your Faith By Confessing It

"When Jesus came into the world, he came to deliver his people. Peter affirmed in his confession that Jesus was the Son of God, sent by God to deliver us from our sins. By implication his confession was also a pledge of allegiance to him.

Some say that a person's relationship to God is a very personal thing and that it is the business of no one else. They deny the importance of any kind of public confession of faith, and often minimize the importance of local church membership or participation. This error is rooted by Jesus' teaching about confessing our faith. Those who teach and act differently will have to answer Jesus' question: "And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" (Luke 6:46).

Peter spoke the conviction of his heart when he said, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." And Jesus answered and said unto him, "Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona; for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 16:

BE CREDIT-WISE

By using credit wisely, you can make money as well as save it. When using credit, be sure to follow these steps:

Make sure you need the credit. Plan how you will use it and how you will pay for it.

Shop around. Obtain credit at the lowest interest rate possible and select the payment schedule that is most advantageous to you.

Use the loan only to purchase items you planned. Make your payments on time to prevent having to pay late payment fees.

Don't have the money for the payment, call or write your lender and explain your situation.

FAD DIETS

Is your reducing diet a fad one? It is if you lose more than two pounds per week. And diets like this can do more harm than good to your health.

Instead, you need a sensible weight loss diet which contains all the essential nutrients and allows weight loss of one to two pounds weekly. Your physician can help you choose a diet that is safe for you.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

If the light seems to be getting dimmer in your home, don't blame your eyesight until you've checked the light fixtures. Dirty bulbs and diffusers can drastically reduce the amount of light in a room.

Clean light bulbs, fluorescent tubes and diffusers with the same solutions you use on windows and mirrors. Never wash a light fixture while it is turned on. Unplug the cord or turn off the switch, remove the bulb, tube or diffuser, and wipe it with your window-washing solution, rinse, dry and replace.

GREY'S OK One of the most common questions I'm asked about ground beef is if it's alright to use the meat when the outside is red and the inside is greyish-brown. The answer is yes. The red color is produced when the meat is exposed to air.

Bottled Water Retains Food Flavors

Many cooks are finding out that using bottled water has a tasteful good effect on vegetables and the preparation of other foods.

Bottled water has many uses other than drinking according to the American Bottled Water Association. In the making of coffee or tea, reconstituted frozen or powdered juice, soups and other instant food varieties, bottled water adds to the taste and flavor. Using bottled water to prepare ice cubes makes a real difference in summertime drinks. A growing number of chefs use bottled water in the cooking and simmering of fresh vegetables. Since bottled water contains no chlorine or some additives that may affect taste, vegetables retain their full flavor when prepared with pure water. Steaming of vegetables and other food with bottled water has also been found to make food more tender and tasty.

When preparing recipes calling for water, try bottled water, which may be purchased in the local food store or delivered to your home.

For more information on the types of bottled water contact ASWA, 1010 Vermont Avenue, Washington, D.C. 20005.

Purvis Takes Honors At UAB

Elba native Mitchell Purvis was the recipient of the Clinical Optometry Award given at the annual honors convocation of the UAB School of Optometry.

Dr. Purvis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Purvis of Enterprise, was presented the award in recognition of outstanding clinical talent. The recipient is selected each year by the clinical faculty of the School of Optometry. Dr. Purvis also received a Beta Sigma Kappa certificate given to students who maintain a B-plus or higher grade average in optometry school. Beta Sigma Kappa is the only international optometric honor society.

Dr. Purvis was given a Gold Key certificate by the Gold Key International Society. The society was formed in 1965 by the Southern College of Optometry Student Council to recognize upperclassmen demonstrating outstanding attitudes through leadership of their class, college and profession. Recipients are chosen by students who are in their fourth professional year.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

The annual meeting of the Coffee County Farm Bureau will be held Friday afternoon, August 14, beginning at 6:30 in the Enterprise High School auditorium.

All members of the Farm Bureau are invited to attend this meeting. I am sure that some resolutions will be formulated which will be helpful to Coffee County agriculture. I certainly urge everyone to attend, especially those who are farming. Farm Bureau is an organization designed to give farmers a voice in setting policies at the county, state and national levels.

About 15 of Coffee County's loveliest young ladies are entering the Miss Coffee County Agriculture Contest. The contestants have rehearsed and are going to use some of the latest dressing and modeling techniques. I know this will be a highlight of the program.

EFFECTIVE

Mac Davis, Monsanto chemical representative over at Headland, told us how to treat small areas of Bahia grass in your lawn. After he told us, Mrs. Lovie Weeks of 102 Laurel Circle in Enterprise, tried this and it killed the Bahia grass. Davis' technique killed the Bahia without killing the lawn grass.

Here is the way it is done. The least amount of Roundup you can buy is a quart and it is very expensive. A little over $20. Perhaps two or three neighbors with Bahia problems can go together and buy a quart. Mix one part Roundup to two parts water in a pan or bucket. Then take a terry cloth hand towel or something similar and place it in the solution. Remove the towel and just when the dripping stops, wrap the towel around a broom. Use the broom to get good coverage. Then simply go to your lawn and rub the towel over the Bahia grass. Just rake the broom back and forth across the top of the Bahia grass. That is all you need to do. Apply before you mow your lawn when the Bahia grass seedling has sprung up.

Wait seven days before you mow your lawn. This much time is needed for the Roundup to be translocated from the stem to the base and root system. If you have questions on this, call us at 894-5266.

For more information on the types of bottled water contact ASWA, 1010 Vermont Avenue, Washington, D.C. 20005.

Hints for Homemakers
TIPS TO HELP YOU

Can you imagine an adhesive that will mend everything from Grandma's school china to the peeling trim on the car? Cracked knobs on the TV, broken furniture or appliances can be easily fixed. Too. Acrylic, translucent, parent bonding adhesive does the job quickly, needs no clamping and works on just about every material except such porous items as paper or wood.

Called PERMA-BOND® super glue, it comes from the International Adhesives Corporation, suppliers of a full line of adhesives and sealants for the home.

That company also makes a product designed for the whole family. It's called FUN-TAK® adhesive. It's non-toxic, reusable, and does lots of things. If you're using posters, pictures and what-not, they can use it instead of tape or glue. Parents will find it helpful for sealing drafts in windows and doors. It will even clean typewriter keys!

Peanut Price Levels For 1981 Are Unchanged

Price support levels for 1981 crop peanuts are the same as the 1980 rates, according to Robert English, an official of the Coffee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Peanut farmers can expect to receive an average support of $451.09 per ton for Virginia and Valencia (southwest) types; $459.09 for Runner; and $437.89 for Spanish and Valencias in all other areas.

The rates are based on the national average price support level of $455 per ton, English said. "The actual support prices depend on the percent of the various sizes of kernels in each ton of nuts."

For each percent of sound mature and sound split kernels, the price support level per ton is: Virginia $6.518; Runner $6.390; Spanish $6.422; Valencia in the Southwest suitable for cleaning and roasting, $6.786; and other Valencia types in all areas, $6.422.

Coffee County farmers participating in the ASCS peanut program produced over 14,000 tons of Runner peanuts last year. Peanuts can be kept in adequate condition under cold storage for about two years. If not in cold storage, heavy losses can be sustained during the hot summer months.

The percentage factor used in calculating the loan value of additional peanuts will continue to be 54.95 percent because the 1981 national support levels for quota and additional peanuts remain unchanged from the 1980 levels, the ASCS official said.

The farm value of peanut marketings from the 1981 crop is estimated between $877 and $999 million compared with estimates of $605 million for 1980 and $615 for the 1979 crop.

THE LITTLEST WATERMELON... Ray Pugh, of Rt. 2, Elba, came by The Clipper last week and stated that since everyone else was bringing in big garden produce he would bring in something small. He is pictured holding a hand-size watermelon grown by Fannie Pugh. The melon was ripe inside with brown seeds, but simply never grew!

Hiker Reaches Destination In Seattle After 86 Days

Bill Miller walked through Elba on April 19 during his cross-country hike, and while eating at a local restaurant passed out that with a member of "The Elba Clipper" staff. Before leaving he promised to let the people of Elba know when he completed his hike, and the following is a story that appeared in his hometown paper following his record-setting walk.

After more than 10,000 miles of walking, 53-year-old Bill Miller of Salmon, Idaho, says he's had enough "long walks." He claims to have walked from Los Angeles to New York City and back to Los Angeles, and from Key West, Florida, to Seattle.

"I'm glad it's over, now I can get back to work," the local general construction worker commented. "I hope to put my thoughts together and maybe write a book about what I did, what I saw, and a feeling of what I started out to do and what I accomplished."

Miller said he left Los Angeles on July 11, 1980, and walked to New York City, arriving there August 26. He says the 45 days, 19 hours and 37 minutes he took breaks the previous record of 53 days, 12 hours and 15 minutes held by an Englishman and recorded by "The Guinness Book of World Records."

Miller says he has sent substantiating information to the Guinness publication in arriving there, footsore and weary, on October 29, 1980. Then on March 31, 1981, he left Key West on his walk to Seattle, arriving there June 24, 86 days later. He walked through 12 states - Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana and Washington. He said he thought Georgia, Mississippi and Arkansas were the prettiest.

During his trip, he collected 510 signatures in a couple of notebooks, plus another 20 business cards.

"The small towns were so clean. Even the vacant lots were mowed. There was very little trash, and nothing along the sides of the roads," he recalled. "I think I've learned a lot about the country. My impression of the Mississippi River certainly has changed. I didn't realize it was so vast."

Miller said he never had a bad experience in the entire 4100 miles. "When tornadoes were hitting on all sides and there was five inches of rain, some people were afraid. I was not."

Zion Chapel Band Holds Band Camp

THE ZION CHAPEL BAND is hard at work... while most youngsters have been trying to keep cool by taking a dip in a swimming pool, students in the Zion Chapel High School band have been hard at work perfecting their musical skills in preparation for the upcoming football season. Last week all the band members took part in band camp, a grueling five-day camp that consisted of countless hours of marching through Wednesday, taking only a one-hour break for lunch; then on Thursday and Friday came back at night to make it a full day and night of work. The band's first performance will come on Thursday night, August 27, when they put on their show during halftime of the Zion Chapel-Houston Academy game, in Dothan.

He carried a camera but expressed regret that he couldn't get pictures of the game encountered. "I had everything wrapped up, it's a shame to miss things like that."

POLISHING UP—Jimmy Williams buffs the brass on his homemade knife until he gets a mirror shine before sending it to a nationally known cutlery company for their approval. Williams, a local businessman, recently began making knives as a hobby. He starts with a strip of aluminum or brass and fashions the bolsters, then designs a blade and backspring of carbon steel, cuts the handle, and fastens the handle to the bolsters with brass welding rods. Once he gets all the pieces laid out, he bolts the sides to the backspring, sands the knife down, disassembles it, places the blade between the bolsters, and then fastens it with pins. The last step is buffing the brass or aluminum. Queen Cutlery of Tinsville, PA has asked Williams to send them an example of his work for a possible repair contract.

MUSICAL TOUR—This group of students from colleges and universities throughout the United States is on tour this summer, conducting clinics for color guard, majorettes, drill team, and drum majors in high school and college bands. One member of the group is Elba native Andy Bullard, also a member of Troy State University's "Drill" team. The bandmen have already toured eight states and have two more weeks to spend in Kansas and Oklahoma. They stopped over briefly in Elba last week to visit with Andy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bullard, before heading on to Kansas. They are: from front, left, Jim Rowan, Florida; Sherry Hyde, Florida; Kathy Levitt, camp director from Florida; and Craig Collins, Florida; back row from left, Nikki Osterhout, Idaho; Bullard; Claudia Morris, Texas; Michelle Schultz, Texas; Shawn Smith, Florida; Sarah Bell, Alabama; Carl Morand, California; and Brenda White of Kentucky.

Vaccinate Pets

The Environmental Division of the Coffee County Health Department reminds citizens of Coffee County that it is now time to have all pets vaccinated against rabies. State law requires all cats and dogs, three months of age or older, to be vaccinated once a year.

Rabies is still very evident in wildlife in Coffee County, as well as in the surrounding eight counties. The only buffer between rabies in wildlife and domestic animals is vaccination. Everyone is urged to have pets vaccinated or destroyed, to prevent the spread of rabies.

THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mulazr
Sports Editor

Baseball's second season started Sunday night with the all-star game and I got so excited I turned the TV off and went to bed at 8:45! The game was probably pretty good, but I figured once Morgana ran out and kissed Cleveland's pitcher, it would be all downhill. I'll have to admit I'll probably keep an eye on the standings and may even watch the playoffs, but as far as I'm concerned, they can write this season off.

All the high school football teams are working hard as the season draws near, and I've talked with all the coaches briefly about their practices. Things are looking pretty good here at Elba, with 41 boys out and some obvious talent showing at every workout. Over at Kinston, Coach Rick Rainer is short in number and not exactly filled with stars, but his bunch seems willing to work and ready to give 100 percent. Zion Chapel got off to a slow start and didn't go in pads until Monday, a fact that could either help or hurt the Rebels. I'll just have to wait and see. This Rebel is also small in number, but they are always ready when you line 'em up, and this year should be no different. New Brockton's Coach Leavy Boutwell has a dedicated team that loves football and is willing to pay the price to win; with a couple of breaks they could have a bunch of games. I think it's going to be an interesting season, but I'm not expecting world champions from our county - at least not this year!

The Alabama High School Athletic Association publishes a monthly bulletin and this month's copy had an interesting article about injury costs last season. The information was a total accident and injury cost report for 35 schools in the state that participated in the National Federal Student Protection Trust during the 1980-81 school year. The amounts were taken from claims filed with the company and showed that last year the 35 schools reported 189 football injuries that resulted in a total cost of $24,036.36. The itemized list included 32 knee injuries at $6,565.05, 7 bruises at $3,343.61, 23 shoulder injuries at $3,269.07 and 5 injuries to teeth at a cost of $1,252.

In other sports, volleyball showed a bill of $205, basketball $1,637.50, softball $603.42 and wrestling $184.00. By the way, the big bill in softball was for an injured nose. Ouch!

Before changing the subject away from football, I thought I'd mention a conversation I had with a big Auburn alumna. The gentleman said if Auburn wins four games, Pat Dye should be the SEC Coach of the Year, and if they win five, he should win the national honor. I guess it's safe to say the Auburn fans aren't looking for any miracles from their new coach.

All the sports are running into each other, or at least that's how it seems to me. Some folks want to talk about baseball, most want to analyze the upcoming football season, and a few are still talking about basketball. What have they forgotten? Softball! The State Class C tournament will be held next week in Montgomery and don't forget that two Elba teams will be competing. The Hickman Movers and Grimes Oil will both be playing in the 64-team event, and I expect both teams to win their share of games. If you don't have any plans next to win their share of games, then take a trip to Montgomery, do a little shopping and why not go to Lagoon Park and watch a couple of games. Who knows - you may even enjoy it.

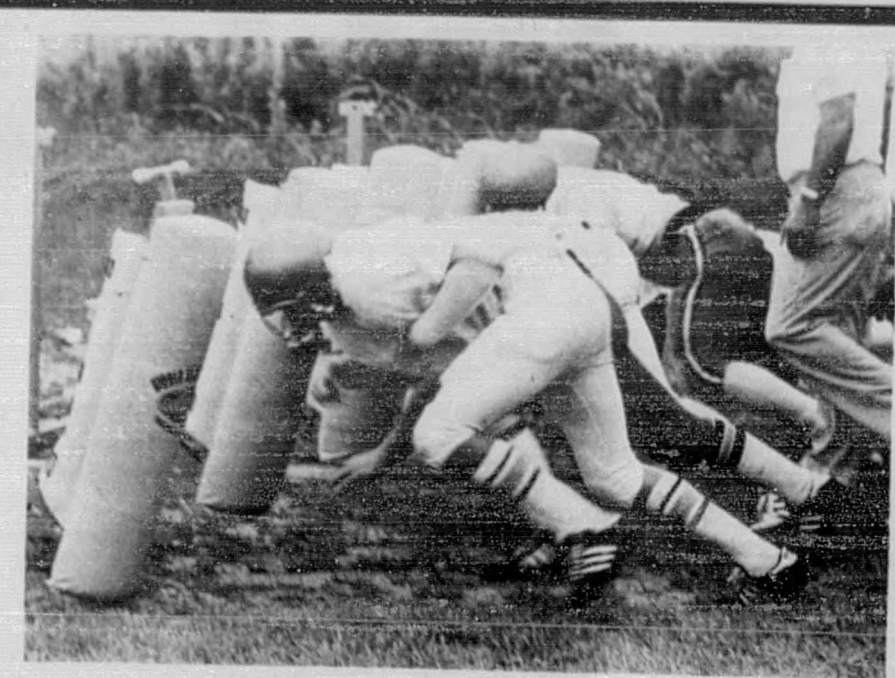

Some people at New Brockton got a little upset about my short article about their new basketball coach. Well, I didn't knock Coach Wood or even hint he wouldn't do a good job - all I did was wonder why one of the county's young junior high coaches wasn't promoted. I have talked with Superintendent Johnny Vaughan since that time, and agree with his choice to hire a proven, highly-qualified high school coach. It's true the junior high coaches don't have varsity experience, and it may have been too much pressure to put them at the helm of a state championship club. So, don't read me wrong - I am 100 percent behind Coach Wood.

Cannon Named New Basketball Coach

Mickey Cannon, a coaching veteran of nine years in high school ranks, has been named the new head basketball coach at Elba High School. Cannon is a graduate of Attmore High School, where he was a letterman in basketball and baseball. He attended Jeff Davis Jr. College, graduated from Livingston and earned a Master's degree from Troy State.

He began his coaching career at Walnut Hill, Florida, where he served three years as an assistant football coach and was the head coach in basketball and baseball. He then went to Century, Florida, where he held similar duties, and then was named head basketball coach at W.S. Neal High School in Brewton, a post he held for four years. Last season Coach Cannon was the head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Ft. Walton High in Florida.

"I had been out of basketball for one year," continued Cannon in a recent interview, "and missed it. When the post became open at Elba I knew it was a great chance for me to join a good athletic program with a winning tradition. I am happy to be here."

Cannon stated he believed in a strong defense in basketball and a disciplined offense. "I prefer to use a man-to-man defense," he said, "and I like to press; but you can still be aggressive in a zone. On defense you must get after your opponent. I like to be disciplined on offense, although I will fast-break when the chance arises. We will have to wait and see what will win at Elba - if it depends on what the players can do best."

Coach Cannon stated he believed in a strong defense in basketball and a disciplined offense. "I prefer to use a man-to-man defense," he said, "and I like to press; but you can still be aggressive in a zone. On defense you must get after your opponent. I like to be disciplined on offense, although I will fast-break when the chance arises. We will have to wait and see what will win at Elba - if it depends on what the players can do best."

Elba Tigers Continue Work Toward Opener

The Elba Tigers are winding up their second week of football practice, and Coach Mack Wood reports the workouts are going well. "Our first week was fair," said Wood, "but I'll have to admit we had a better than average week of work. The opening three days in shorts consisted of the normal routine of trying to line up both offensively and defensively. Our first day in pads was good, but on Friday we tried to do too much and worked too long. The boys got tired and we didn't get a lot done."

"All the players have good spirits and good attitudes," added Wood, "and everyone seems willing to work. We have put in our offense and basic defensive alignment, and are now trying to work all practice on every part of the game. We're working on both running and passing and hope to get our offense established by the end of the week. We are in an area where we must work on fundamentals and teamwork at the same time. Right now our offense is a little behind, but we'll give it a little more work and things will work out."

"I hope things start taking shape," said Wood, "because we have only one more week of hard work and then it will be game week." Coach Wood also added there have been a few minor injuries, and that senior defensive-back Buddy Clark had suffered a slight shoulder separation. There was some good news, too, however, as Shane Meek has returned to the team. Meek saw action at both center and defensive tackle last season, but moved with his family following the season and wasn't expected to return. Wood will give the Tigers a shot in the arm.

Hunting and Fishing Day In Alabama

September 26 has been proclaimed Hunting and Fishing Day in Alabama by Governor Fob James to coincide with its national observance. This will mark the 10th annual observance. The day was first established by Congress in 1972, and in the interim years has earned the support of each president, as a means of recognizing the country's sportsmen who hunt and fish.

The governor, in his proclamation, acknowledged the many outstanding contributions to conservation, recreation and the economy. He said hunters and fishermen long have been the leaders in many major conservation programs and are responsible for the founding of a very progressive fish and wildlife agency in Alabama. They have promoted and attained establishment of regulated seasons and bag limits so sportsmen can harvest the annual surplus of game and fish without damage to the basic breeding population.

"Through their progressive programs, hunters and fishermen have been highly instrumental in attaining a better environment and the wise use of our natural resources," said the governor.

James said all Alabamians can be justly proud of the state's "No. 1 turkey state" status, its deer population, which allows one of the most liberal bag seasons, the 19 state-owned and managed public fishing lakes and the fisheries resources of four state parks and state waters of inland Alabama and the Gulf.

James asked the state's 1,800,000 hunters and fishermen to abide by the state's laws and regulations, to emphasize the exercise of good boating and hunter safety practices and techniques, and to respect the rights and property of others.

President Ronald Reagan in establishing the national hunting and fishing day, pointed to the important role hunters and fishermen have played in conservation. "To ensure that future generations could enjoy America's wildlife, hunters and fishermen helped found the conservation movement," the president said. "Since then, America's wildlife has staged a dramatic comeback. Elk, deer, antelope and wild turkey, which had been reduced to small and scattered populations, have been restored to healthy and abundant numbers."

"The restoration of wildlife populations," President Reagan said, "has been due to wildlife management and habitat restoration programs financed largely by sportsmen's contributions. He also pointed out that these sportsman-financed programs "benefit hundreds of non-game as well as game species."

The president noted that hunters and fishermen have provided more than $5 billion for conservation through special fees and private contributions.
